What you won't get at our firm

If you're in a medium or large firm now, you'll love Grope Hamilton Lawyers because you won't get: top down management, office politics of any note, people competing for your work, huge pressure to earn and recover more, endless meetings, ever increasing budgets and charge out rates.

If you're a sole operator or a very small firm now, you'll love Grope Hamilton Lawyers because you won't get: the huge burden of debt collection, administration and accounting, your capital tied up, unamortised overheads chewing up profits, the isolation of working on your own, and holidays as a no go zone.

*If a day is measured in 6 minute units,
what's your life worth?*

A sad fact about the legal profession is that around 30% of students, barristers, and lawyers experience some form of psychological distress including stress, depression and anxiety; double that of the general community in Australia.

'What you won't get at our firm' sums up a lot of the driving forces behind depression. So if your passion for law needs re-igniting, or you're asking yourself "Did I really study law for all this?" then maybe it's time to take the reins of your health and your career into your own hands.

Who are Grope Hamilton Lawyers?

Grope Hamilton Lawyers has earned a reputation for excellence over 30 successful years and now stands as one of Adelaide's leading boutique commercial law firms. So be assured, it will reflect well on you and your career to be part of our firm.

What's behind that striking red branding?

We're ethical, we're honest, and our culture is collegiate in the purest sense - inspiring, supportive and inclusive.

We are a team of professionals with a century or two of experience between us. And we share that wealth of experience, knowledge and problem solving skills around gladly.

We strive to further develop and learn through our mainly internal Continuing Professional Development program, focusing on business skills, ethical legal services and services marketing.

We're also very organised. Our office procedures are excellent, powered by the latest technology and all the legal, accounting and trust systems.

We go the extra mile

Our focus is on unswerving, personalised customer service so we don't have teams of people working on files. While we have a reputation for technical excellence, our clients know we'll go the extra mile for them. We love to build strong business relationships with clients to glean a deeper understanding of their businesses and industries. Invariably this results in a higher level of commercially sound advice that can help create our clients' competitive edge.

The man behind the wheel

Managing Partner Mark Hamilton has been managing practices since 1983 and more importantly, is easy to get along with, and he's been able to keep good lawyers working with him, many for 20 and 30 years. He's progressive, motivated, inspiring and ridiculously energetic for someone who's been there, done that.

Will your clients fit?

Our clientele has an Adelaide market focus; small to medium enterprises, business people, a few small cap companies, some government agencies, industry organisations as well as private clients and investors.

Your clients will be made to feel warmly welcome as part of our 'family' and we're sure they'll appreciate that our charge out rates are more aligned with the Supreme Court scale than the eastern seaboard, making them significantly lower than many larger firms' rates.
